2. Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow:

Mahatma Gandhi once remarked, "The earth provides enough to satisfy everyone's need, but not for anyone's greed." It means that if we take only that much which we really need and nothing more, there would be no misery in the world. The rich have superfluous store which they do not need. It goes waste while millions starve and die. It is very true, Gandhiji admitted, that human body, too, needs possession. It creates desires for enjoyment but real happiness in life comes when we are able to get rid of unnecessary desires and live only to serve. This principle of non-possession is equally applicable thoughts. If a man fills his brain with useless knowledge, his thoughts get in the way of his realization of truth.

- (a) How do the rich drive the people of starvation and death? [1]

- (b) How can human misery be removed from this world? [2]
 (c) How according to Gandhiji, can we attain areal happiness in life? [2]
